READ LUKE 2:25-35

- Many times in our lives we think about what we want next. Where do we want to be? Who do we want to be? Is there something in your life right now that makes you ask these questions and search for answers?
- Where do you typically search for answers to those nagging questions of life?
- We celebrate the First Advent – the coming of Christ – and look forward to His second coming. Are you longing for that second coming? What worries you about that? Or are you concerned at all about the future coming of Christ?
- Do you think about what that experience will be like? Are you waiting and watching?
- Are you at peace with the future and know where your future will be?
- What are you looking for?
